CONVENTION FLASH

The 'FLASH' issue of DIRECTION is published as soon as possible after the annual convention in order to inform all CALLERLAB members of significant award presentations, committee actions, proposals and resolutions, if any, to be voted on by the membership.

As a result of actions taken at the 1990 convention, all resolutions proposing changes to established CALLERLAB dance programs must be approved by the voting membership.

The Annual meeting was held on Wednesday, April 12, 1995, and there were no resolutions proposing changes to any of our dance programs.

FROM THE CHAIR

Tony Oxendine, Chairman of the Board, presented the following speech at the Tuesday evening banquet of the 1995 CALLERLAB convention.

Let me explain why I'm here. Not why I'm at the podium, but why I'm at the CALLERLAB convention. That's the really neat thing about being the chairman of CALLERLAB - I can use this time to talk about whatever I want. I realize that you don't have to listen, but the Country Western dance and the Karaoke party won't start until I'm finished -- so you might as well stay. Let me see... where to start....

You see, I truly love the square dance activity. Admittedly, I'm in a different situation than many of you because I call for a living. I'm a TRUE full time caller. I have no other source of income - No retirement, no pension. Square dancing is not only my livelihood--- second to my wife and family---it is the love of my life. I ENJOY CALLING, and I truly believe that most of you feel the same way. However, I am probably going to say some things that some of you won't like.
I have the best job in the world. Many callers, however, have gotten confused on exactly what their job really is. My job is not to call square dances. My job is to give people a little FUN in their lives. My job is to see that anyone that comes to my dance leaves the dance feeling a little better than when they came in. My job is to make people HAPPY.

Is your job different than mine? Does the fact that you have another full time job make your other job any different than mine? Some of us teach beginner lessons. Others teach C-4 lessons. Some do exhibitions in malls and nursing homes. Others do state festivals. Some of us call (me for instance) for one club. Others call for 10 or more. You’re probably wondering — "Where is this going?" GOOD QUESTION....

What I’m trying to say is that we’re all the same. It doesn’t matter whether you call 3 dances a year or 300. OK, it does matter... your BMI/ASCAP license is cheaper. But it really ticks me off to see callers say and do things that are hurting the activity. Regardless of what you read, see, or hear, CALLERLAB is the best thing to happen to square dancing since we came "out of the barn and into the convention centers". I’m not only proud of CALLERLAB, I am proud to be a member of CALLERLAB. You should be too.

For the first time since its creation, CALLERLAB has a rival organization (ACA). I THINK THAT’S GREAT!!! We need the competition. Now don’t let anyone (from either organization) tell you that there’s no competition. There is, and there’s nothing wrong with that. Think about it—-you never know how good something is unless you have something to compare it to. While there are a few callers who hold dual memberships, most callers prefer one or the other. THAT’S CALLED DEMOCRACY. While I philosophically disagree with the ACA, I wholeheartedly support their right to exist.

Lest I stray too far from my subject matter....back to the part about FUN. "FUN" can be had at any level—Plus, Advanced, Challenge, EVEN MAINSTREAM. I knew I’d get around to it sooner or later. Why are we afraid to call Mainstream. The argument I hear is that CALLERS say, that DANCERS say, that Plus is more "FUN". NOT!!! If the truth be told — Callers find Plus much easier to call. Let me read a portion of an article that Jerry Story wrote...

"From listening to the dancers I find that a lot of them are sick and tired of club politics and are looking to the callers for leadership. I feel most dancers want to do their part to help square dancing rise again and are willing to go out and help promote new dancers. However, they need leadership and guidance from somewhere and they are not getting it—not from club leaders nor from callers. I commend CALLERLAB for all they do for the square dance activity. CALLERLAB is, in my opinion, the only bona fide professional organization that we have. However, I feel that entirely too many of us, both callers and leaders, expect far too much from CALLERLAB. I for one feel the level system that is being utilized today is the biggest culprit in the deterioration of square dancing. But this is not CALLERLAB’s fault. The level system was designed by CALLERLAB to standardize the calls so the entire world could dance together. It is due to the exploitation of the level system by callers, primarily in the U.S., that has created the problem. Far too many callers today, myself included, have used the system to make money rather than use the system to make square dancing better. We as callers have robbed the activity blind. When I see more A-1 classes nationwide than I see beginner classes, I know what I speak is the truth. When we as callers keep taking dancers from the clubs to start our own caller run Advanced groups, we do nothing but shoot ourselves in the foot. When dancers leave the group atmosphere or club environment we lose that dancer as a potential salesman who would have been out there promoting new dancers for the clubs. In my travels (and I travel a lot) I find many areas of the U.S. where the square dance activity is really topsy-turvy. As a general rule, when I call in an area where A-1 is the predominant level, I find that the dancers know half the Mainstream list, half the Plus It's amazing to me that we can be so blind. We seem to be listening to ourselves and not to the dancers. The dancers are not directly telling us anything. THEY ARE JUST LEAVING!!! The dancers are saying - ENOUGH IS ENOUGH! Why don't we start thinking with our heads and our hearts instead of our egos? It's not the DANCERS saying they want more names. It's not the DANCERS saying that Cross Trail Thru should be dropped. It's not the DANCERS saying that the lists need to be changed. IT'S US!!! WE'RE the ones that are trying to teach a two year program in 20 to 30 weeks—Rushing the dancers through and eliminating calls that WE don't like. If WE were doing our job, there would be no rush up the "level ladder"—trying to get to Plus or Advanced.

Are other lists the answer? I don't think so. It appears to me that these other lists are just tools to enable us to get people into our workshops to learn higher levels. These lists are much easier to call than Mainstream – But any fool can call Relay the Deucey, Load the Boat, or Coordinate. It takes a REAL caller to use calls like Separate or, heaven forbid, Fan the Top. – AND MAKE THEM WORK!!! You know something? All of the talk is right. Dancers cannot do Fan the Top or Separate or even Dixie Style. But it isn't THEIR fault—IT'S OURS....

You tell me, why is Load the Boat more fun than Grand Square? Is it because we know that we can call Load the Boat, knowing that it's essentially a Star Through, which gives us a few extra beats to think of something else to call—like Relay the Deucey?

Is radical change necessary to save our activity? YOU BET!!! But this change needs to be in our ATTITUDE—NOT THE PROGRAMS. We need to start putting the dancers needs ahead of our own. The dancers don't "need" Plus, WE DO...

Larry Cole and the Mainstream Committee are apparently going to recommend to the Board of Governors that there be NO changes to the Basic/Mainstream Programs this year. I THINK THAT'S GREAT.

There is a lot of talk about the "one floor – one level" concept going on today. I agree. Let's make that one level Mainstream. On a personal note I'd be happy to put ALL of the Plus calls on the Advanced list and make A-1 and A-2 one level. Now before some of you shoot me, I think that PERHAPS such a radical idea list, and half of the A-1 list from plain vanilla formations only. It is easy for me to figure out where the problem really lies. The same goes for Plus dancers today. Very few Plus dancers know the entire Mainstream list or the entire Plus list from even plain vanilla formations, let alone any chocolate or strawberry, and might I add that different flavors can be fun. I've proved it to myself. However, it takes some preparation on your presentation to achieve this. As leaders, I feel this, in itself, could help us change the way things are. More dedication and hard work on the part of all callers, including myself, can turn our activity around.

The U.S. has several lists. California has one, Arkansas has another. And now we have another. Multiple lists are killing our activity. Dancers are leaving in droves. Our average age is well above 50. Clubs are folding right and left. Birmingham has one of the smallest pre-registrations in recent history.

What's the solution? You're at it. CALLERLAB has had in place, for 20 years, a very viable, danceable set of programs. I heard Ingvar say that there were 8,000 square dancers in Sweden, out of a population of 8 million people. According to the last LEGACY survey there were somewhere around 300,000 square dancers in the U.S. Out of a population of almost 300 million. Look at the percentages and YOU tell me who's doing better. If you don't believe me, ask one of the Swedes, or Japanese, or Germans—ask ANYBODY but us. The system works. Now I don't believe that we should keep dancers in lessons for a year in order to teach them to dance. I wonder how many bowlers we would have in the country if it took them 12 months of lessons to join a league. I think that the RPM Committee is on the right track with their 8-8-8 or 10-10-10 week program. Once again, I think that it should be perhaps just 10-10 or better yet, 8-8. We need to be able to get dancers back into our activity in 20 weeks or less. Once we get them, THEN we need to give them a place to dance. Not more workshops to learn another level. Workshops tend to be WORK - Hence the name WORKshop. Do our programs need changing? I think not. Tweaking perhaps, but no major changes. I don't feel that we need to drop any calls off any list. OK... maybe Swap Around. I would like to see our Mainstream Program be taught from standard formations in 20 weeks or less. Can we do it? You tell me.
may not be feasible – Or would it?

I'm not trying to make any of you angry. I'm just trying to make you THINK. And then I'm trying to make you ACT. If you want to make a difference – Do SOMETHING.

CALLERLAB is getting a tremendous amount of bad press these days. We seem to be the source of every square dance problem in the world, and if you listen to some people, even problems that aren't square dance related. BUT... we can turn this around in our favor.
We can show people that we're not the problem—we are the SOLUTION.

Well... now you're asking yourself "How do we do this?"
We don't do it by tearing down other people or organizations—even the, dare I say it, ACA. We do this by making the square dance population aware of the positive impact that we, as CALLERLAB members, have on the activity. If you're proud to be a CALLERLAB member, let the world know about it!!!!
Wear your badge. Write and speak POSITIVELY about our organization.

Can't think of anything good about CALLERLAB???
Let me help you. Our Foundation is really taking off.
We now have a vehicle to promote our activity in a style in which it has never had before. With our 501-C(3) IRS status, we can now solicit MAJOR funds from MAJOR corporate organizations. These funds will enable us to do amazing things. IMAGINE a one or two minute commercial on NBC on Saturday night at 9:00 PM (PRIME TIME) advertising square dancing.
IMAGINE having the funds to do this. It's not only possible, it could very well happen.

The Accreditation Committee is working very hard to establish guidelines for a program to certify callers as square dance teachers. When they complete this task, we'll have a voluntary (notice the emphasis on "voluntary") system in place that will enable callers to be certified teachers. This will have a major impact on getting us back into schools.

Our Partner's Committee has planned and scheduled hours of sessions devoted to helping partners of callers cope with the rigors of being a caller spouse.

We have a two million dollar liability insurance program. We offer equipment insurance. We even have accidental death or dismemberment insurance.

Our Caller Association Liaison Committee has been sending REPs all over the country to speak to caller organizations about CALLERLAB. Their results are very positive. The list goes on and on.

Problems – Sure, the square dance world has problems.
CALLERLAB has problems and CALLERLAB is not perfect by any stretch of the imagination. BUT...CALLERLAB is the best thing that the square dance world has to offer. We're 3,000 strong and I
CALLERLAB. To the callers that are not—I’m sorry but it's your lose. To all of us who are – Welcome to CALLERLAB – Welcome to true, professional, square dance leadership.

AWARD PRESENTATIONS

SPECIAL RECOGNITION AWARD
Presented by Marshall Flippo

"This gentleman's family was from England. Out of 6 children, he was the only one born in the United States. Music was a part of his life, as he started playing the violin at the age of 6. He began dancing in 1952 and he and his wife knew this was going to be a great part of their lives. He started calling in 1953 and worked in a wide area, calling programs for special problem children and senior citizens. He called for Square Dance Time in New Orleans, a TV program, for about 1 ½ years. In 1958, because of his love for square dancing, he purchased the Bar-None Ranch, developing it into a square dance village.

There was a clubhouse and swimming pool already on the property. He added a house and a square dance barn. He subdivided the ranch into lots—you had to be a square dancer to buy a lot in Bar-None Village.

He started teaching classes in the clubhouse, with about 15 squares. His barn would hold about 60 squares and he soon filled it up. He had such a waiting list, that if you wanted to belong to that club, you had to go through his classes.

Ladies and gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to present this award to my good friend, Chuck Goodman."

GOLD CARD AWARD
Presented by John Kaltenthal.

"The Gold Card is presented on an irregular basis, to a very limited number of callers throughout the history of CALLERLAB. To date there have been only five Gold Cards issued. These were issued to Arnie Kronenberger, Bob Osgood, Lee Helsel, Bob Van Antwerp and Cal Golden. Tonight it is my distinct honor and privilege to present the sixth Gold Card.

The caller we are honoring tonight has been in an active leadership role for more than half a century, in both square and round dancing.

His credentials are truly outstanding, both within and unselfishly to all tasks to which he has been assigned. As I cite his accomplishments, some of you will be able to discern the name of the recipient we are honoring.

This leader of leaders began his dancing back with the Cheyenne Mountain Dancers and Pappy Shaw. He is a charter member of CALLERLAB, and has helped with many CALLERLAB seminars at various National Square Dance Conventions. He served with distinction during CALLERLAB’s early years, working on such items as Standards, Ethics, and Accreditation. He earned his Caller–Coach Accreditation because of his multitude of talents. He has served on the Board of Governors of CALLERLAB, ROUNDALAB, and LEGACY, and was honored by his home area by being elected to the Denver Area Square and Round Dance Hall of Fame. He has served CALLERLAB well as editor of GUIDELINES and materially assisted in the development and publication of the Curriculum Guidelines for Caller Training and the Technical Supplement. He was selected as the first Assistant Executive Director of CALLERLAB and served faithfully for eight years. Please join me in congratulating and presenting this Gold Card to Herb Egender."

CHAIRMAN’S AWARD
Presented by Tony Oxendine.

Recipients of the Chairman’s Award are chosen by the Chairman of the Board to recognize individuals for outstanding contributions to CALLERLAB. Nine awards have been presented in the past. Following is the text of Chairman Oxendine’s presentation of the 1995 Chairman’s Award:

"The job of Chairman of the Board of Governors requires quite a bit of time involvement in the day-to-day operations of CALLERLAB. Many hours are spent on the phone or on the computer keyboard. This job is difficult at best and a competent support staff is a must.

Being a novice at this sort of thing, I’ve spent a great deal of time on the phone with the Home Office, trying to learn my job. I must say that I cannot imagine a more professional staff in any organization. If I have a question, all it takes is a phone call, and if the office doesn’t know the answer, it doesn’t take them long to find it.

One of the benefits of being Chairman is that once a year, he or she gets to honor someone with a special award. Therefore, it is my distinct pleasure to present this year’s Chairman’s Award to the CALLERLAB Home Office staff—George White, Georgi & Dar Johnson, Pat Lovelace, and Mary Schiebert."

CALLER ASSOCIATION HELP

titled The Link. The journal, prepared by Stan and Cathie Burdick for the Caller Association Liaison Committee, contains articles of interest to callers associations and provides a vehicle wherein associations can share their successes with other associations. We hope The Link will establish closer ties between CALLERLAB and local caller associations.

In addition, a 'rep' program has been established, within over 40 representatives from CALLERLAB are available to visit your association. Reps will provide information about CALLERLAB, answer questions, and report any concerns or problems the association may have back to CALLERLAB.

If your association has not received The Link, or if association leaders wish to have a representative visit, contact CALLERLAB or Stan Burdick, Chairman of the Caller Liaison Committee, at PO Box 2678, Silver Bay

general attitude and fellowship within existing Clubs really makes me sit back and wonder why my business is still thriving when the activity in general is on a downward spiral.

It appears to me that square dancers today are still out dancing and going to weekends and festivals. However, the number of dancers leaving clubs and just freelancing, i.e. going where they want and when they want is increasing. While clubs on the other hand seem to be in trouble. From listening to the dancers I find that a lot of them are sick and tired of club politics and are looking to the callers for leadership. I feel most dancers want to do their part to help square dancing rise again and are willing to go out and help promote new dancers. However, they need leadership and guidance from somewhere and they are not getting it – from clubs nor from callers. No one seems to be excited about our activity anymore. Creating enthusiasm by clubs and callers is essential in revitalizing our activity. All I'm hearing are "Can'ts". "I can't find anyone who wants to take lessons". "We can't get any young people interested". "I can't support the club and earn A-1 at the same time". "I can't help the club, I'm too busy". "I can't! I can't! I can't!". This is heard quite frequently throughout the realm of the square dance activity today. "I can't" help remembering something my mother told me when I was a child. She said 'can't' died with a hole in the seat of his pants." Let's not sit around and let this happen. Let's get excited again!

I commend CALLERLAB for all they do for the square dance activity. CALLERLAB is in my opinion the only bonafide professional organization that we have. However, I feel that entirely too many of us (both callers and leaders) expect far too much from CALLERLAB. I for one feel the level system that is being utilized today is the biggest culprit in the deterioration of square dancing. But this is not CALLERLAB's fault. The level system was designed by CALLERLAB to standardize the calls so the entire world could dance together. It is due to the exploitation of the level system by callers primarily in the U.S. that has created the problem. Far too many callers today, myself included, have used the system to make money rather than use the system to make square dancing better. We as callers have robbed the activity blind. When I see more A-1 classes nationwide than I see beginner classes, I know what I speak is the truth. When we as callers keep taking dancers from the clubs to start our own caller run Advanced groups, we do nothing but shoot ourselves in the foot. When dancers leave the group atmosphere or club environment we lose that dancer as a potential salesman who would have been out there promoting new dancers for the clubs. In my travels (and I travel a lot) I find many areas of the U.S. where the square dance activity is really topsy-turvy. As a general rule when I call in an area where Al is the predominant level I find that the dancers know half the mainstream list, half the plus list, and half of the Al list from plain vanilla formations only. It is easy for me to figure out where the problem really lies. The same goes for plus dancers today. Very few plus dancers know the entire Mainstream list or the entire Plus list from even plain vanilla formations, let alone any chocolate or strawberry, and might I add that different flavors can be "fun". I've proved it to myself. However, it takes some preparation on presentation to achieve this. As leaders I feel this in itself could help us change the way things are. More dedication and hard work on the part of all callers, including myself, can turn our activity around.

I see square dancing from a different side when I travel abroad. I commend these callers and leaders from other countries. You are doing a great job. I don't see the "level jumping" going on as badly there as I do here. However, be careful and don't follow our lead. The proof is in the pudding (so to speak). If we as leaders are looking towards CALLERLAB for the answer to these questions, we need not look any further than ourselves. CALLERLAB can't force anyone to apply this system the way it was intended to be applied. Only we, as callers and leaders, can do that, and I feel the time has come.

I have been working on my own calling ability and presentation on and off the stage to help me do my part putting the activity back in its proper perspective. I encourage all of us to do the same and quit passing the buck. I will keep working hard to enthuse and excite the dancers at an early stage and keep them dancing. Combining popular calls into one level seems to be the current trend. This will only continue to feed this monster of segregation that has been created. The problem is in the caller – NOT in the calls.

SUMMARY OF ANNUAL DANCES

by Jim Mayo

I have just finished the first summary of the data I receive in my annual survey of dancing in New England. You may remember that I collect data on actual attendance at November weekend dances each year. This year the early returns have yielded 75 dances on which I have five years of data. I have written to 32 additional clubs who can increase my data base to more than 100 dances if I get information on one more year from each of them. Last year I ended the survey with 105 dances.

For many years I have used this survey to point out that things were not as gloomy as everyone was saying.
In fact, since 1986 when I started the survey the AVERAGE ATTENDANCE has stayed close to 85 people, fluctuating up or down only a few people from year to year. Last year the numbers suggested the first sign of trouble. There was a substantial drop – down about 6% below the lowest previous number. This year there is another 6% drop. Worse yet, if we look back we see that the trend has been down for four years. In the 75 dances I have so far, 1990 was the highest average attendance and the average has dropped 6–8 percent in each of the last three years.

In every region of New England 1990 was the best year since I started the survey. The drops in average attendance from that year to 1994 by region are: Conn – 86 to 62 (28%); E. Mass – 108 to 84 (22%); W. Mass – 71 to 70 (they’ve held pretty steady for the whole time); Maine – 101 to 60 (40%); NH – 83 to 87 (the only gain); RI – 75 to 60 (but this is really only one club); VT – 101 to 80 (21%). Clearly there is trouble in River City. It would seem that the situation is now becoming as gloomy as everyone has been saying it is.

At this point I depart from the world of statistics and "hard" facts to speculate on why the trouble exists and what we might do about it. First, let me say I do not share the view of many that Country Western dancing has been "taking" our people. We have an activity that requires a great deal more commitment than Country Western dancing. In return we offer very different rewards – if we keep them available. I believe the strongest appeal of square dancing is its social component. Square dancers make friends in square dancing (often in class). I have seen many of those friendships last for decades.

When dancers (or clubs) focus on more calls (a different dance program), or more complicated (challenging?) dancing they often lose sight of the importance of social interaction. It is still true that most groups turn out the biggest crowds when there is a party – when the dancing becomes the means to a SOCIAL end. Most people find it more FUN to dance when the hall is full – even if its in a smaller hall. The afterparty or dinner before the banner raid is more FUN than the dance itself. As a caller I hate to be relegated to this supporting role. But as an analyst of the square dance situation I note that the most successful clubs are the noisiest where people sometimes spend a tip sitting around a table sharing their lives.

Now, for what we can do in the face of our declining numbers. I have said for years that our clubs run too many dances. Most clubs try to have a weekend dance at least once a month in addition to their weekday club program. Since the area is steadily losing callers to old age and more serious problems, perhaps we would do better to cut the number of weekend dances in the hope of building the attendance at each one. Particularly, we should not have clubs competing on the same night in the same area if we can work out better ways to share the dancers.

WHY CALLERS SHOULD JOIN ASSOCIATIONS

by Jim Mayo

I have been a caller for 45 years and I have been a founding member of my local association, the New England Council of Callers Associations (NECCA) and of CALLERLAB. I believe that EVERY caller should belong to a callers’ association if it is at all possible. Callers are the most permanent part of the modern square dance activity. As such they must accept responsibility for the long term welfare of square dancing. A caller association is the only practical way for us to work together in carrying out this responsibility.

In my local association we have worked to improve our calling skills. We have brought in leaders to share with us their knowledge. We have run workshops with our own members to share teaching techniques. We have prepared lists of calls taught in our classes so that our class dances will be comfortable for all our students. We have run dances so that our less experienced members will have a chance to be heard by the dancers in our area. We have also developed friendships that have set an example for dancers showing how square dancers respect each other.

NECCA, our regional association, has also run clinics, subsidized student expenses at caller schools and contributed to the cost of specialist training for the local associations throughout New England. Perhaps even more importantly, NECCA has participated in the regional Co-operation Committee which brings together representatives of the dancer organizations, the round dance leaders and the callers to work together for the improvement of square dancing. We engage in area promotion, encourage standardization and together sponsor the New England Square Dance Convention.

CALLERLAB has made immense contributions to square dancing. Foremost among these is the standardization of dance programs. Most dancers take for granted that they will know the calls being used at a dance. Many callers know, from 20 years ago, that this was not always possible. The definitions of calls have also been standardized and even most callers take this for granted. We have learned a great deal about the technology of calling – how to manage formations, how to make the timing right, what call sequences are smooth and much more. Most of this knowledge has come from the communication between callers that has grown out of the CALLERLAB Conventions. Thousands of hours of work has been done by CALLERLAB members to make square dancing better. I am proud of that work and pleased to have been one of the workers. That, too, has resulted in friendships that will last a lifetime.

Ten years ago I wrote an article titled WHAT HAS CALLERLAB DONE FOR ME. A copy of this article follows.

WHAT HAS CALLERLAB DONE FOR ME?
by Jim Mayo
November 1985

I hear many people complain about some of what CALLERLAB has done. They tend to blame all the ills in modern square dancing on the Program identification or standardization that CALLERLAB has introduced to the activity. I thought it might be useful if someone took the other side. I believe that, while we are by no means perfect and we have not solved ALL the problems facing the activity, that CALLERLAB has accomplished a great deal that has been good for square dancing. In this article I have looked at these accomplishments both from the caller's point of view and from the point of view of a dancer.

AS A CALLER:
First, and most important, I know what calls to use when I go to call a dance. Ten years ago I, and any good caller, spent the first two or three tips trying to find out what those present knew. We now do that in the first half of the first tip because we have a common language (the CALLERLAB Programs) that leaves us with only the question "How well do they know the calls in the Program advertised for this dance?"

Second, I now have a standard, agreed to by nearly everyone, for the definition of a call. The amount of work that went into getting a definition that we could all agree to for the MS and PLUS calls shows just how big a problem that was. For careless callers that isn't much of an issue. If they teach dancers wrong they don't care. But for a caller who cares and wants his or her dancers to enjoy the activity as much as possible that's a big concern.

Third, Bob Osgood has been able to put out the Caller Teacher Manual which is an excellent guide, particularly for newer callers showing how to teach each call, offering pretty good examples of choreography using those calls and including definitions and styling suggestions. Bob could not put out that book before CALLERLAB because there was no agreement on how to do it.

Fourth, and this is a biggie too, I have a chance to get together each year with callers who care about square dancing to share my thoughts about what problems we have and what can be done about them. If I, or others, have any good ideas we have a way of sharing them with a large group of callers who also care. We haven't solved all the problems in square dancing but I firmly believe that we understand them much better and are trying to solve them much better than we could if we did not have CALLERLAB as a vehicle for promoting our understanding.

In the recent past, articles by many callers have been made available to all of us, addressing the questions of square dancing problems. Ten years ago it was nearly impossible to get anyone to write about these subjects. I believe that CALLERLAB has been responsible for promoting the improved communication.

Another area that few people notice is the development of a teaching curriculum for callers. The recently approved caller school curriculum makes everyone aware of what callers should know and helps to assure that schools will deal with more than a small piece of the whole collection of things that new callers should be exposed to. These days we know how to do the job right and we can finally begin to discuss why we don't do it right. Ten years ago we didn't have a common language and even if we had identified the problem we wouldn't have been able to do anything about it. Now, if I tell you that we have to make judgments as callers about the degree of difficulty of the material we use and the type of timing we will use (workshop vs dance timing) you know what I mean. We may not agree on the judgement but we can at least understand our differences. Without CALLERLAB that understanding would not be possible.

AS A DANCER:
As a dancer I am probably not as aware of the changes that CALLERLAB has made in my dance experience as callers should be. One reason for this is that most dancers really don't care about how this recreation came to be what it is. They have a fairly short term view of the situation - and that's OK. There are some dancers who do care enough to contribute their time and their energy - and some even a fair amount of money - to help assure that the recreation that has given them a lot of fun will be available for others to enjoy. It is for them that CALLERLAB has made the most difference.

Even those who are not involved in square dance organizations have benefited from many of the things that have helped callers. When they go to a dance they know what calls to expect. This is not a small concern. Ten years ago it was standard practice for callers to teach 3 - 6 new calls at a Saturday night DANCE! That problem has disappeared. The standards that we expect callers to meet - even fairly new callers - are higher than they were and training is available for these callers. Dancers do get better timing, more variety and clearer calling than they did before. If all callers have not chosen to add the newly available information and skills to their program we can hardly hold CALLERLAB responsible for their lack of interest. For those dancers involved in the organizations of square dancing, club officers, dancer association delegates, LEGACY delegates, convention committee members, etc. the common language that CALLERLAB has brought about is an important contribution. We used to use terms like Hot Hash, Fun Level, Club Level and Workshop to try to understand what dancers wanted. They had no real meaning – one caller’s hot hash was full of unknown words while another’s was only faster. Club level depended on both the club and the caller. If a club wants to decide what program they want, they now have very precise words to describe the terms the program will include. We are even beginning to work toward an understanding of the "degree of difficulty" within a given program. The words we are using now are All Position Dancing and Dance By Definition but we know these are inadequate words and we are moving toward better ones. They will help, but please don’t condemn us because we did not instantly come by a common understanding that no one had even thought of ten years ago.

There is one big void in the National square dance picture. It is the lack of a national dancer organization. There are some groups trying to make that happen but there is still a way to go. We have available the vocabulary, the talent and a lot of good intent. Let us stop looking for a scapegoat and get on with the job of working together to address the problems. I think CALLERLAB has done its part although it is by no means finished – in making available the tools to do whatever we want to do in square dancing. Only dancers and callers working together can decide what to do with those tools.

Although it is not really a part of WHAT HAS CALLERLAB DONE FOR ME, let me say very directly and simply what I think we callers and dancers should be shooting for. Dancers want to dance calls they know and to dance them successfully. Even most Advanced dancers would prefer to dance an easier program successfully than to dance difficult material and break down all night. Most dancers move on to new programs trying to find a group where they can dance without having to put up with people who are dancing "over their heads." Callers have never been "typical" dancers. These days many callers do it because they are fascinated with complicated choreographic patterns. They don’t make enough money to make money an important incentive so they serve their own interests and blame the small crowds and those who leave early on changes in our society. At most dances many more people breakdown much more than they want to. They then accept the blame themselves rather than placing it where it belongs – on the caller. We are very close to being able to teach callers how to make dancing interesting without making it so difficult that dancers cannot succeed. The next step is to make them want to.

(NOTE: Although this was written 3 1/2 years ago I would change little of it today. (March 1989) I believe we have taken major steps along the path toward making callers want to call material that allows dancers to succeed. Another view of this accomplishment is that we have changed the CALLERLAB organizational bias away from "making Mainstream interesting". This bias has, in my view, been responsible for urging callers to make dancing more difficult than the great preponderance of dancers wanted or could handle without more effort and involvement than they wanted. The battle against this bias has barely begun – most callers still fear that dancers are in serious jeopardy of being bored. The battle has begun, however, with the awareness of actual usage that the investigations of a shortened learning program uncovered. Another big jump in the direction of easier dancing is the work Charlie Muff has done during 1988/89 on the Choreographic Applications Committee. There is hope and we can be proud of CALLERLAB’s part in understanding problems and acting to address them.)

(FURTHER NOTE: In September 1994 I still find nothing to change but there are some important additions. Most important, of course, is the negotiation for BMI and ASCAP licenses. Without the action taken by CALLERLAB the clubs might today be struggling to stay legal and still have music for dancing at a price they could afford. Also, in the last decade, much work has been done to improve the teaching of callers and the way callers teach dancers. The work started by Charlie Muff has been completed by Stan Burdick and Jerry Reed. The standard applications books are published for Mainstream and Plus programs. The enthusiasm that is building for the Community Dance Program, developed by Ken Kernen and now being promoted by the committee chaired by Cal Campbell, holds a bright hope for rebuilding the base of our square dance pyramid. We are also working vigorously to find better ways to promote square dancing and to introduce new people to our fun. The Recruit, Promote, and Maintain (RPM) Committee under the leadership of Keith Rippeto is on fire with ideas. This is CALLERLAB at its best. I’m proud to be a part of it. Aren’t you?)
CALLERLAB EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY
ASSISTANT EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The position of Assistant Executive Director of CALLERLAB has been vacant for several years. The Executive Committee has determined that the volume of work being handled by the Home Office in Rochester more than justifies the addition of a part time Assistant Executive Director. The work to be handled by the person chosen to fill this position will be primarily writing and assisting with the work of running Conventions. Therefore the position does not require relocation to Rochester, Minnesota. Most of the day-to-day work can be done through an interactive computer link.

CALLERLAB is seeking applications from people who would like to be considered for this position. The Board of Governors has determined that we should look first among the members of CALLERLAB and their partners for a person to fill this position. An abbreviated description of the duties of the person filling this position appears below. For a complete job description and application form please contact the CALLERLAB office at 829 3rd Ave. S.E. Suite 285, Rochester, MN 55904, (507) 288-5121.

This is a half-time position. Salary is negotiable but is expected to be about $12,000/year.

ABBREVIATED JOB DESCRIPTION ASSISTANT EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The Assistant Executive Director (AED) of CALLERLAB works for the Executive Director and assists in any aspect of the work of running the organization. The AED has specific responsibility for the preparing the minutes of meetings of the Executive Committee, Board of Governors and the General Membership. The AED will also prepare most of the PRESS RELEASE output of CALLERLAB.

The principle area of routine assistance expected of the AED is written communication. This will include correspondence related to the CALLERLAB Convention, The NSDC training program, CALLERLAB Committee work and general correspondence.

The AED will reply to questions dealing with categories of membership and will develop promotional ideas and materials to encourage membership. The AED will assist the Executive Director with ideas and suggestions for inclusion in DIRECTION. This person will also develop press releases on general public relations topics and coordinate public relations matters within the organization.

Other, not specifically communication type, assistance will be expected from the AED. These activities include convention planning and operation, serving as Historian for CALLERLAB by maintaining the catalogue of past resolutions and other actions by the Board and membership. The AED will attend CALLERLAB Conventions and the twice a year meetings of the Executive Committee (usually May and October.) At these meetings the AED will participate with the Executive Director in consideration of the form and content of Board and Executive Committee actions. Attendance at the National Square Dance Convention in June each year may also be required.
QUALIFICATIONS FOR THE CALLERLAB ASSISTANT EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The qualifications that are expected in candidates for this position include but are not limited to the following.

1. A thorough familiarity with the square dance activity including the development of modern square dancing from its traditional roots. (If the candidate is a caller, performance ability must be sufficient to avoid embarrassment to CALLERLAB.)

2. Skill in use of the English language for both written and spoken communication. (College level training in writing is desired.) The applicant will be required to demonstrate proficiency.

3. Business, organizational, administrative experience and/or training including an understanding of accounting systems, office procedures, volume mail operations and publications. (Although not a requirement, experience with convention planning or commercial interaction with convention hotels or other facilities would be a strong plus.)

4. Familiarity with computer systems and their use in administrative operations.

5. Ability to interact effectively with people whose personal views do not agree with your own. A long history of a high order of ethical and moral behavior will be valued highly.

While these qualifications may seem excessive for a position that offers low compensation, The Board of Governors hopes that the person selected will be able to move into the Executive Director job when it is open. The holders of both positions are direct representatives of CALLERLAB in a broad variety of situations. We hope that a concern for the square dance activity will allow us to continue our past good fortune in having employees whose performance far exceeds our ability to pay.
CALLERLAB, The International Association of Square Dance Callers, recently completed its 22nd annual convention at the Westin William Penn Hotel in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. More than 560 callers and partners attended this prestigious three-day event. The convention theme, Revive In '95, was implemented with a college-like atmosphere providing educational 'courses' to help callers develop their calling skills.

The following organizations sent representatives to the convention:

- LEGACY International
- National Executive Committee
- ROUNDALAB
- United Square Dancers of America
- Canadian Square & Round Dance Society
- CONTRALAB
- Lloyd Shaw Foundation
- National Association of Square & Round Dance Suppliers

Among the significant awards presented this year were the following:

John Kaltenthaler presented the prestigious Gold Card Award to Herb Egember for his more than half a century of contributions to square and round dancing, his dedication to CALLERLAB, and his unselfish devotion to the activity.

Marshall Flippo presented the Outstanding Contribution Award to Chuck Goodman for his many years of service to the square dance activity.

The Chairman's Award, presented for significant contributions to CALLERLAB, was given to the Home Office staff.

Kenny Reese presented Small World Awards to callers from non-North American locations who were attending a convention for the first time. The recipients were: Soren Christensen and Erika Johansson from Sweden, and Hartmut Niemann from Germany.

Previous Small World Award recipients attending the convention were:

Richard Bjork, Robert Bjork, Jack Borgstrom, Ingvar Pettersson, and Stefan Sidholm from Sweden; Rod Bradish from Japan; Francois Lamoureaux and Kenny Reese from Germany.

Jerry Helt presented a Half Century Certificate to Glenn Mayes, Akron, Ohio, for having completed 50 years of calling.

Daryl Clendenin presented Quarter Century Certificates to 35 callers who had completed 25 or more years of calling.

Awards of Excellence were presented to members of the Board of Governors who are retiring from the Board in '95. They are Don Beck, Jack Berg, Tim Marriner, and Wayne McDonald.

Chairman Oxendine also presented Appreciation Awards to 21 CALLERLAB members who have given unselfishly of their time, energy and knowledge in support of CALLERLAB projects. Of special significance was an award to Pete and Beryl Skiffins for their part in planning and executing the 1995 Mini-Lab convention in London.

We thank you for the coverage you have given us in the past and for your continued support in the future.

THE CALLERLAB BOARD OF GOVERNORS
CALLERLAB’s Board of Governors

CALLERLAB is governed by a twenty-five member Board of Governors. Board members are elected by a majority vote of CALLERLAB members in good standing and serve for three years, unless serving an unexpired term. Any member may run for the Board of Governors after he or she has been a full Member for three years and submits a nomination form signed by twenty-five other full Members in good standing.

The Board of Governors meets before and after every convention to make those decisions necessary for the continuing operation of the organization. Great care is taken to refer to the general membership those decisions which affect the entire membership and which cannot justifiably be made by the Board alone.

Five members of the Board are elected by the Board to serve on the Executive Committee. A chairman and vice-chairman are elected from the five Executive Committee members. The Executive Committee meets twice a year, separately from the Board of Governors, and is responsible for convention planning and day-to-day administrative matters.

Following is a list of the Board of Governors with the year their current term expires. Executive Committee members are identified by an asterisk (*).
